

Home At Last (HAL)

A program to support adults – who are aging, frail or have special needs – to settle at home upon discharge from hospital.

Day of discharge supports include:

- Trained attendants meet you at the hospital, support you through discharge, provide transportation home, and errands such as groceries, prescription or medical equipment pick up, as needed.
- Snack/light meal preparation and home-making as required.
- The HAL program also provides a complimentary Meals on Wheels meal and follow-up by HAL staff to ensure your safety, independence and wellness at home.

Taking the alone out of going home

We know how busy life is, and how difficult it can be to plan around hospital discharges that often happen quickly and unexpectedly. Now, even if no one else is available, HAL can be there for you.

Our goal is to provide support and settling in just like a friend or neighbour would.

Requesting HAL Services

Patients, family members, and health care professionals can identify a HAL client.
