

Mölnlycke presents:

The New Art and Science of Wound Care:

Fundamentals of Wound Management

Date & Time: Friday September 17 2021: 9:00AM -1:00PM EST

Fee: $50.00

(R.S.V.P. September 14)

Contact: Michelle McClean

Location: Virtual: Teams platform*

michelle.mcclean@molnlycke.com

*Link to follow after the registration is complete

226-448-1113

Participants must register online. Please register early - space is limited.

Program Content

The New Art and Science of Wound Care has been updated. It is a comprehensive, educational program designed for wound care clinicians in all the various health care delivery settings. The program purpose is to assist caregivers in gaining confidence and competence, both in administering direct wound care and in optimizing the potential for wound healing. It is a presentation of the art of caregiving as well as the science that guides its delivery.

This session will consist of the following clinical modules:

- Holistic Approach
- Skin Integrity
- Skin Tears
- Local Wound Assessment
- Dressing Category Selection

Speaker

Dr. Karen Campbell is an RN PhD, NSWOC, WCCC(C):

Karen is an RN PhD, NSWOC, WCCC(C), she is an adjunct faculty for the Master's of Clinical Science in Wound Healing at Western University in London ON, and a consultant for both EO2, Primacare Living & Jarlette Health Services. She is the Past President of the International Skin Tear Advisory Panel (ISTAP). She has functioned as an advanced practice nurse in Geriatrics, Wound Care and Continence She is core faculty at the RNAO Wound Care Institute.

Karen was the co-chair of the RNAO BPG on Pressure Injuries and the Canadian BPG on Pressure Ulcer prevention and Treatment in the SCI populations. She has been a panel member on multiple international guidelines. Karen has a strong interest in skin health and frequently speaks and publishes on this topic.

Register online:

Friday, September 17, 2021
9:00 AM EST

REGISTER HERE

